

Animal Law Talk: An Indian perspective

Raj Panjwani, one of India's foremost animal advocates, will present a public lecture addressing some of the big issues facing legal advocates for animals and the status of animal protection in India.

Mr Panjwani has had over 25 years of experience in the High and Supreme Courts of India where he has advocated for a range of animals including turtles, antelope, tigers, deer, goats and buffalo. Mr Panjwani has also been instrumental in drafting legislation relating to the protection of animals. Come and be inspired by Mr Panjwani's many accomplishments!

- Date: Wednesday 28 May 2008
Venue: Monash University, Clayton Campus
Faculty of Law, Building 12, L4 (Basement)
Time: 1.00 pm
Details: Free public lecture
RSVP: events@voiceless.org.au

For further details, please visit: www.voiceless.org.au/Law/Lecture_Series/2008_Lecture_Series.html

UNSW Faculty of Law is proud to partner with Voiceless in delivering this annual lecture series on animal law. This partnership is one of the many ways UNSW Law embraces law in action.

